Agenda

✓ Going from manual practices to a centralised and secure approach

✓ Enabling a great user experience and access for all

✓ Vote, sign, and collaborate–on any device

✓ Organisations that have changed the way they operate

✓ Q&A

Manual and time consuming vs. centralised and secure

A secure environment for administrators and board directors to access meeting materials, communicate with each other, and execute their governance responsibilities. By combining mobile devices with rapidly improving cloud technology, board management software replaces the old regime of paper, printing, and emails.
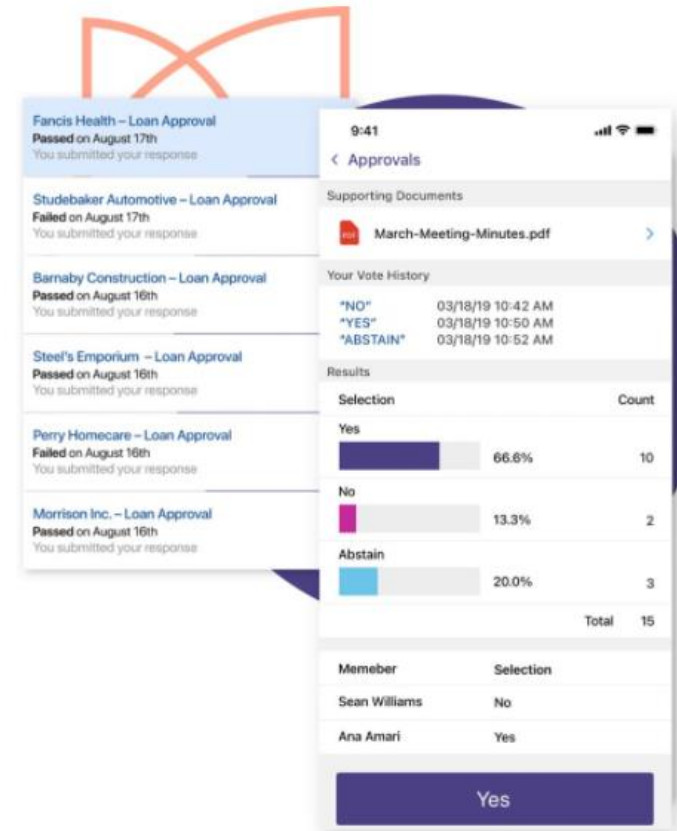

User Experience and Access For All

Real-time information makes meeting prep more reliable, context-rich, and useful than ever before. And what happens when everyone is better prepared? Well, you'll find your board discussions more thoughtful and engaging than ever.

Don't wait for your next meeting to make important decisions

Having information your team needs to act decisively. After your administrators create an approval, directors gets an instant notification. Every necessary document for consideration sits below an open space for conversation. And instead of waiting until the next regularly scheduled meeting, directors can vote from the comfort of their own home.
